

What causes abusive personality in America and elsewhere? Abusive childhood environment. My parents were abusive because they were born into strict christian do not spare the rod and spoil the child. Essentially all I knew in life was pain both physical and mental. My mom was expert at both. Dad did his share too. But mom was the fascist sadist. She reveled in masochism and martyrdom taught to her since birth by the catholic church. Ever been in one of their churches? It's a Halloween macabre of suffering saints. Jesus, blood, gore and misery on their faces and bodies. A real head trip for a kid and church abuses of kids throughout history is too much to ignore. The very old movie the 7th seal with Max Sedow has a particularly pointed scene of this titled: Martyrs. The whole christian death cult is nothing but suffering, pain, suffering and worse hiding behind a smiley face of the Satan they claim to oppose. History is full of it from crusades of murder, plunder and looting to many holy inquisitions, witch burning, heretic burning, torture chambers, public auto da fe's for sedition against even suspicion of speaking out against the true terrorism as canon law of the land for millennia, and far far worse. Essentially if all one knows is pain imprisoned in this as a child or any pain say in an inner city ghetto also born of this christian cult running America, when something that feels good for once comes along, one wants more of it to stop the pain. Alcohol, drugs, sex, etc fit that bill tightly. Church came to rescue selling the addictions people use to self medicate their pain. The church ran opium routes to Rome, also managed prostitution. The real reason fornication was a threat is because free sex cut into its profitable organized prostitution. Only aristocrats with money could buy opium. Church sold it as religious opiates to the masses who had to depend on sex, sour wine and other stuff to soothe its pains. I don't think the church ever stopped running dope from Asia, just found a different time and worse opiates to peddle to the masses playing war on drugs using useful idiot government as cohorts in crime with it. Anyway, whether from pain living impoverished in dysfunctional family and social environments as a kid or war torn area like the mid east with the face of Satan wearing the stars and stripes professing freedom, pain drives one to use substances to lift one's horror of a religious holy war, terrorist world, reality, to change it for better for a while. Any distraction will do for a pain free respite from an insane world, world religions, and their useful idiot governments. America is an addicted country as are so many others for these reasons. The real terrorist sell us the sickness and cure as addiction enslaving the whole world one country at a time. This is the allure of collectivism to the aforementioned, it promises heaven on earth that it can never or will deliver except as more suffering and pain. Even when immigrants come to this country giving citizens warnings like exist everywhere for addictive substances, people don't believe or pay attention to them. then like the willful children they remain want to whine and cry of the deceptions; people self deceive to believe what they want in spite of clear dangers of what they are doing to selves and allowing others to do to them then do it to others to suffer. Misery loves company in their pity-pot insanity as willful victims of their learned helplessness. The willful sadist and masochists. Of course the peddlers of your torments give sympathy and alligator tearsome-facade support to encourage one to never wake up to self as the real problem all along and stay addicted to support their puppeteers enslaving them for a living. Aldous Huxley, author of Brave New World in 1930's said, [people love their subjugation and enslavement and will fight to the death defending their bondage.] He was so right, just look around. Mark Twain wrote in 1800's, 'That it is easier to fool people than convince them they been fooled....' No amount of truth can convince the willfully deaf, dumb, and blind victim of learned helplessness differently. The only person who can unlearn it is you, by choosing to do so same as one chose to learn their enslavement. The perfect slave is one who says, 'I am not a slave.'

Castration of America

A metaphor of what has happened to freedom in America, if it really ever existed except in a historian's wet dream is metaphor to creating an eunuch Castration of a domestic male animal for human consumption.

Castrating animals not used for breeding, supposedly improves texture and taste of meat products from the butchered creature. I observed the castration of an adult boar hog to 'sweeten the meat' before slaughter. The process was cruel, inhumane, and haunts me to this day, and I mostly avoid pork products because of the horrible memories. The farmer using a short piece of rope, made a noose that he then placed around the hogs upper jaw end and snout leaving the lower jaw free to allow breathing and screaming from the pain. He then pulled it tight and tied the opposing end to a stout post. The hog pulled, squealed and resisted fighting his noose with all of its focus remaining oblivious to anything else especially what was going on at the other end of him. Once engaged, the farmer leisurely castrated the animal without interference or using anesthesia. Moreover, to stop bleeding he rubbed a handful of salt into the open cut and raw flesh before releasing the hog. It dropped to the ground nearly lifeless in unimaginable agony; the creature suffered tremendously. I helplessly watched as it just lay there alone moaning, groaning and literally crying tears of agony. I wished to throw up and end its torture shooting it; but it was not my property or place to do it. How many Germans were in the same situation when dealing with Nazi's during Jewish holocaust persecution in the country during WW2 genocides and tortures in the death camps?

Yes, animals do cry when suffering same as human animals. Americans and our freedoms are metaphorically like that hog's circumstance. "We the Sheeple" are consumed with self and the immediate gratification of 'bread, wine, and circuses' while giving up our rights and freedoms to 'our protectors' keeping Americans in learned helplessness and distracted to what is happening to all of us in USA instead of owning responsibility for selves: people do not want freedom they want bread, wine and circuses of identity politics scapegoating a national target like Trump bashing instead of watching the real threats to their lives and doing something about it while they can. Like that hog, people focus only on the diversions, distraction & entertainments and not on what is being castrated from them. When it is too late, Americans will suffer greatly for their folly. Because once lost like that hogs flesh, it cannot be recovered. You never know what you got until it is gone. 'We the Sheeple' will suffer our slaughter until a merciful death that stops our agony.

"Modern society is hypnotized by Socialism. It is prevented by Socialism from seeing the mortal danger it is in. And one of the greatest dangers of all is that you have lost all sense of danger, you cannot even see where it's coming from as it moves swiftly towards you. Dwell on the past and you will lose an eye; forget the past and you lose both eyes."
